CONCLUDE SESSION

With the holiday came an e.d. of the protracted session and opportunity for rest, recreation and attention to political necessities at home, the latter in many cases made more than usually acute by the approaching blennial elections. President Hoover to debate and ratify the London naval treaty.

Senate Short-Tempered
Adjournment last night found the senate in a short-tempered, quarrelsome humor, while at the oposite end of the capitol the house members made merry on the floor, jovially shouted down would be speakers and joined in a general spirit of jubilation and gratification that at last the long grind was over. Before pounding gavels brought the sessions to a close, the senate adopted the conference report on the world war in close, the senate adopted the conference report on the world war veterans pension bill after a debate which almost reached the proportions of a fillibuster, and both houses took final action on the second deficiency bill, carrying funds for the Hoover law enforcement commission and on the District of Columbia appropriations bill.

A small, but determined band of democrats and independent republicans fought against enactment of the veterans bill. In his turn each of the group spoke on the measure, bitterly denouncing President Hoover for the stand he took, sharply criticizing the procedure under which the house adopted the compromise bill, and bombarding the senate conferees for yielding to the house.

About the Growth of Corsicana and Navarro County

According to Final and Complete Federal Census for 1930

That Corsicana and Navarro County have had an unusual permanent growth in population during the last ten years is best evidenced by the following Federal Lansus figures for 1930 which are final and complete, same having been secured direct from the Federal Census supervisors for the districts mentioned in this statement.

To impress upon those interested in the substantial growth Corsicana has had, without any boom of any kind, we are making comparisons of our growth with other good prosperous and growing cities in its class throughout Texas.

There are fifteen of these good cities in Western, Northern, Eastern, Southern and Central Texas, all of them dominating a wide area of trade territory that belongs to

There can be no better cities anywhere than these fifteen cities, population considered, and Corsicana is proud to claim a classification with them.

We invite you to read these Federal 1930 census figures over carefully, get your pencil and paper and figure for yourself and see how Corsicana and Navarro county, are growing.

Verify these Facts

Corsicana Precinct is the largest of these fifteen good cities with the exception of San Angelo, Abilene, Corpus Christi and Laredo, but the difference is more than made up in the populations of the counties of which these cities are County Sites.

Navarro County of which Corsicana is county site has 60,494, which is 24,465 more than Tom Green county, 19,478 more than Taylor County, 18,-328 more than Webb County and 8,671 more than Nueces County.

With the exception of Grayson County, in which the good cities of Sherman and Denison are located, Navarro County is the largest county of the fifteen counties given, with Grayson County showing a loss in population since the last census of 8,328, while Navarro County showed a gain in population of

Lacking 422 people Navarro County gained more population than the following counties put together: Smith, Hunt, Lamar, Grayson, Bell and Anderson.

Corsicana Precinct population has showed a substantial gain over the 1920 Census of 7,433, which gain is more than was made by Smith and Anderson counties combined.

Verify these Facts

Navarro County is also one of the largest of the fourteen counties in population of the 254 counties in Texas, as well as is tenth largest in Texas in individual farms.

The fourteen largest counties in Texas in population are Bexar, Cameron, Dallas, El Paso, Galveston, Harris, Hidalgo, McLennan, Navarro, Wichita, Grayson, Jefferson, Tarrant, Travis.

Navarro County, which is located in the center of the black land belt of Central Texas also enjoys thickly populated counties adjoining it and the census shows that all of the counties of the Corsicana trading area are progressive and growing counties

The census also shows that the density of population within a radius of fifty miles of Corsicana is more than the same radius of any of these fifteen cities, and more thickly populated than any section in Texas with the exception of the larger cities, the population of the Corsicana trading area being over 400,000 people.

Corsicana is not located in any extreme section of Texas for its geographical location makes it easily accessable from all directions, and dominates its own trade territory, being far enough away from the larger cities to where it will not be cowed, submerged, or overshadowed by the broad claims of such cities.

Corsicana and Navarro County Have Made this Growth During the Last Ten Years Without Any Good Roads.

With the completion of our extensive permanent good roads system now under construction there is no telling how fast Corsicana will grow during the next ten years.

To Increase Trading Area of Corsicana

Corsicana's geographical location in the black land beit of Central Texas, with railroads, interurbans, bus lines, making it easily accessable to all sections of the State, puts the city in a very advantageous position.

Corsicana has grown rapidly since the 1920 census, and is destined to become one of the most important trading centers in Texas outside of the larger cities.

With the rapid completion of our extensive permanent road system now under construction, Corsicana will be the center of an enlarged trading area like it has never enjoyed before in all of its history.

These hard surfaced roads together with other forms of transportation facilities will open up new and prosperous trading areas that are now looking to Corsicana as their logical point of contact for all classes of merchandise.

The good roads will give Corsicana a population to draw from of over 400,000 people who live in adjoining areas, and will be attracted here, such counties that ere anxious for contact with us being Ellis, Hill, Kaufman, Van Zandt, Anderson, Hender, en Limestone, Freestone, Houston Robertson, Madison, together with Navarro county enlarges the Corsicana trade territory to twelve substantial and growing counties, which wide area we can interchange business relations for our mutual good.

The Magnolia Ollers hold the edge over the remaining teams in the Navarro County Baseball league with two victories and no defeats in the second half play, and turned back the threat of the Blooming Grove nine Sunday afternoon by winning a thrilling 2-0 victory over the west county aggregation at the Municipal Park.

Burns for Blooming Grove and "Babe" Ruth for the Ollers staged a pretty pitchers battle, and aided by sensational fielding support, turned in great games. Ruth had the better of the argument, allowing six hits, fanning five and walking one, while Burns allowed ten hits, three of which were obtained by Ruth, fanning five and walking by Ruth, fanning five and walking

Both teams turned in great fielding exhibitions, the Blooming Grove infield clicking off three double plays and the Oilers inner defense one. Robinson, Magnolia shortstop, turned in a great individual fielding game.

Bazette and the Humble nines tangled up in a great game Sunday afternoon on the Humble diamond, with the Bazette team grabbing a 3-2 decision from the Humble. Three successive hits in the first inning off Stancil, ace of the Humble staff, accounted for two runs and the winning run was pushed across the plate by the Bazette nine in the seventh inning. Maney, hard hitting outfielder for the Humble, was the leading batter of the contest, hitting one long double and two singles in three trips to the plate.

The White's Chapel nine defeated the American Well Gumbo Busters in an old fashioned slugging bee, 12-11 on the White's Chapel diamond Sunday afternoon. Only one game was played Saturday afternoon, the Blooming Grove team obtaining a 5-1 victory over the American Well nine. ### DES MOINES YOUTH IS TENNIS CHAMP OF WEST FOR 1930

BERLIN, July 7.—(P)—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight who won the world's championship from Jack Sharkey on a foul last month, today was ordered by physicians to rest two or three months before resuming training.

The report of the physician, submitted to the German boxing commission, stated that Schmeling was suffering from varicocele of the right side as a result of the foul. The report will be taken up by the commission tomorrow. According to the physician Schmeling's injury is of such a nature that sporting authorities who read the report interpreted it to mean there would be no participation by the German fighter in a championship contest possibly until until 1931, if then.

CHICAGO, July 7.—(P)—Harris Coggshall of Des Moines, Ia., is the 1930 Western singles tennis championship plon—due partly to his own steady play and partly to a tricky muscle in the left leg of Clifford Sutter of New Orleans.

Sutter, Tulane University student, who last week won the intercollegiate singles title, was forced to default to Coggeshall in the finals of the Western championship yesterday when the trick muscle games all and 15 all in the fifth set. Sutter won the first set at 1-6, then fourth at 4-6, and with the score at 2-all in the deciding set, suffered a cramp. He was given a rest and continued only to finally be forced to default.

Sutter and his partner, Maurice Bayon, also of Tulane, defaulted to Coggesshall and Bruce Barnes of Corbet will be visited Friday night at 8 o'clock, and the week will be concluded at Kerens Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. A large crowd is expected at the Kerens speaking as the Kerens box is one of the largest voting boxes in the county.

Sutter and his partner, Maurice Bayon, also of Tulane, defaulted to Coggesshall and Bruce Barnes of Austin, Texas, in the finals of the men's doubles.

Catherine Wolf, 17 year old miss from Indianapolis, won the women's singles from Clara Louise Zincke of Cincinnati, present number one Western woman, by 3-6, 6-4, 6-1.

About the Growth of Corsicana and Navarro County

According to Final and Complete Federal Census for 1930

That Corsicana and Navarro County have had an unusual permanent growth in population during the last ten years is best evidenced by the following Federal Census figures for 1930 which are final and complete, same having been secured direct from the Federal Census supervisors for the districts mentioned in this statement.

To impress upon those interested in the substantial growth Corsicana has had, without any boom of any kind, we are making comparisons of our growth with other good prosperous and growing cities in its class throughout Texas.

There are fifteen of these good cities in Western, Northern, Eastern, Southern and Central Texas, all of them dominating a wide area of trade territory that belongs to them.

There can be no better cities anywhere than these fifteen cities, population considered, and Corsicana is proud to claim a classification with them.

We invite you to read these Federal 1930 census figures over carefully, get your pencil and paper and figure for yourself and see how Corsicana and Navarro county, are growing.

Corsicana Precinct is the largest of these fifteen good cities with the exception of San Angelo, Abilene, Corpus Christi and Laredo, but the difference is more than made up in the populations of the counties of which these cities are County Sites.

Navarro County of which Corsicana is county site has 60,494, which is 24,465 more than Tom Green county, 19,478 more than Taylor County, 18,328 more than Webb County and 8,671 more than Nueces County.

With the exception of Grayson County, in which the good cities of Sherman and Denison are located, Navarro County is the largest county of the fifteen counties given, with Grayson County showing a loss in population since the last census of 8,328, while Navarro County showed a gain in population of 9,870.

Lacking 422 people Navarro County gained more population than the following counties put together: Smith, Hunt, Lamar, Grayson, Bell and Anderson.

Corsicana Precinct population has showed a substantial gain over the 1920 Census of 7,433, which gain is more than was made by Smith and Anderson counties combined.

Verify these Facts

Navarro County is also one of the largest of the fourteen counties in population of the 254 counties in Texas, as well as is tenth largest in Texas in individual farms.

The fourteen largest counties in Texas in population are Bexar, Cameron, Dallas, El Paso, Galveston, Harris, Hidalgo, McLennan, Navarro, Wichita, Grayson, Jefferson, Tarrant, Travis.

Navarro County, which is located in the center of the black land belt of Central Texas also enjoys thickly populated counties adjoining it and the census shows that all of the counties of the Corsicana trading area are progressive and growing counties.

The census also shows that the density of population within a radius of fifty miles of Corsicana is more than the same radius of any of these fifteen cities, and more thickly populated than any section in Texas with the exception of the larger cities, the population of the Corsicana trading area being over 400,000 people.

Corsicana is not located in any extreme section of Texas for its geographical location makes it easily accessable from all directions, and dominates its own trade territory, being far enough away from the larger cities to where it will not be cowed, submerged, or overshado wed by the broad claims of such cities.

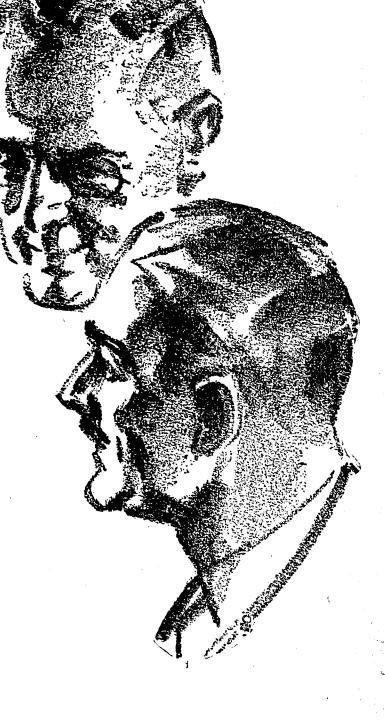

Corsicana and Navarro County Have Made this Growth During the Last Ten Years Without Any Good Roads.

With the completion of our extensive permanent good roads system now under construction there is no telling how fast Corsicana will grow during the next ten years.

GOOD ROADS

To Increase Trading Area of Corsicana

Corsicana's geographical location in the black land belt of Central Texas, with railroads, interurbans, bus lines, making it easily accessable to all sections of the State, puts the city in a very advantageous position.

Corsicana has grown rapidly since the 1920 census, and is destined to become one of the most important trading centers in Texas outside of the larger cities.

With the rapid completion of our extensive permanent road system now under construction, Corsicana will be the center of an enlarged trading area like it has nover enjoyed before in all of its history,

These hard surfaced roads together with other forms of transportation facilities will open up new and prosperous trading areas that are now looking to Corsicana as their logical point of contact for all classes of merchandise.

The good roads will give Corsicana a population to draw from of over 400,000 people who live in adjoining areas, and will be attracted here, such counties that are anxious for contact with us being Ellis, Hill, Kaufman, Van Zandt, Anderson, Henderson, Limestone, Freestone, Houston, Robertson, Madison, together with Navarro county enlarges the Corsicana trade territory to twelve substantial and growing counties, which wide area we can interchange business relations for our mutual good.

SPECIAL NOTICE

To encourage the future growth of Corsicana and Navarro county post this 1930 census tabulation in a conspicuous place in your office or store.

Every time any one visits you tell them about our growth and show them the government figures for it will help sell Corsicana to the outside world.

We have something to talk about, so let us all fall in line and tell the world about how we are growing.

"The push forward in the loops made me feel as if 50 men were pulling at my stomach," Mantz said. "It took all my strength to push the stick forward and go over, I trained for two weeks to break the record. The strain of each loop on the plane was terrific."
